

Clinical Oncology Courses Portfolio Lead Contributor candidate pack

The Royal College of Radiologists

01 Welcome

It's a pleasure to welcome you as you explore the opportunity to contribute to the work of the Royal College of Radiologists. I'm delighted that you're considering joining our committed community of professionals who contribute their time, skills and experience to support our work.

At the RCR, colleagues like you are absolutely vital to the work we do. You play a key role in helping us support excellence in medical imaging, interventional radiology and cancer treatment - both now and in the future. In contributing your time, expertise, and perspective, your involvement strengthens our impact and supports the delivery of safe, high-quality patient care, which sits at the heart of everything we do.

As a Contributor, you will help us deliver the College's strategic priorities, including providing excellent standards and guidance for the workforce, delivery of high-quality professional learning, and being recognised as the experts in our fields. Your insight and involvement help ensure that our specialties continue to grow in both strength and influence.

Many of our Contributors have told us they choose to give their time because they want to make a real difference to our specialties. And by getting involved, they've also found opportunities to build lasting professional networks and stay connected with peers across the UK and beyond. The same will be true for you.

We're proud to be a college that works in partnership with its members. Our Contributors bring energy, ideas, and commitment that shape our work and our future - and we are stronger because of it.

I look forward to the opportunity to work with you.

With warm wishes,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Stephen Harden". The signature is written in a cursive style and is positioned above a thin horizontal line.

Dr Stephen Harden

President of The Royal College of Radiologists

02 Role Summary

Role title:	Clinical Oncology Courses Portfolio Lead
Time Commitment:	The tenure for this role will be 3 years. Maximum of 8 days per year, [including attending courses to observe, planning, and evaluation].
Location:	London, United Kingdom (with blended/remote working depending on meetings and course activity)
Closing date for applications:	Open-ended

Why this role exists

The Clinical Oncology Courses Portfolio Lead plays a pivotal role in ensuring that the Royal College of Radiologists (RCR)'s portfolio of oncology-related clinical courses is evidence-based, high-quality, and aligned with the evolving needs of clinicians and multidisciplinary teams.

As oncology practice continues to advance - driven by technological innovation, developments in radiotherapy, and an increasing demand for robust contouring and treatment planning skills - the need for high-quality education has never been greater.

This leadership role ensures that RCR courses remain current, strategically aligned, and clinically relevant, ultimately supporting the safe and effective delivery of oncology services across the UK.

Your impact

As Portfolio Lead, you will shape the future direction of the Royal College of Radiologists' Clinical Oncology learning offer, supporting excellence in radiotherapy planning, contouring education, and wider oncology training. Your expertise will guide course leads, strengthen curriculum alignment, and drive the adoption of best practices across the portfolio.

Through your leadership, you will have a tangible impact on professional development across the specialty - supporting thousands of clinicians and contributing to safer, higher-quality patient care. You will also play a key role in fostering a collaborative faculty culture, where innovation, continuous improvement, and shared learning are actively encouraged.

03 Key responsibilities and requirements

As Clinical Oncology Courses Portfolio Lead, you will:

- Serve as the clinical lead and Subject Matter Expert for the Clinical Oncology clinical courses portfolio.
- Support and advise on clinical contouring activities across the RCR Learning programme.
- Work with the RCR Learning team on strategic planning for the portfolio, ensuring alignment to RCR Learning objectives.
- Identify opportunities to refresh and improve existing courses, including through structured review processes.
- Assure course quality, clinical relevance, and alignment with curriculum standards and professional frameworks.
- Review event evaluations and identify opportunities for continuous improvement and best practice sharing.
- Attend one instance of each course annually to observe delivery first-hand.
- Lead and support a team of voluntary course leads, ensuring consistent quality and a cohesive portfolio.
- Support the RCR team with recruitment of new course leads.
- Contribute to wider RCR learning and development initiatives and cross faculty collaboration.
- Attend relevant meetings (e.g., Clinical Oncology Learning Leadership Group, joint portfolio strategy days).
- Uphold RCR values and the Contributor Code of Conduct.

Knowledge, qualifications and experience	Essential (E) or Desirable (D)
Fellow of the RCR (by examination), GMC licensed, practising in the UK	E
Clinical background in Clinical Oncology with excellent understanding of curriculum and examinations	E
Experience in educational programme or course development	D
Knowledge of best practice in medical education, assessment design, and learning resources	E
Leadership and organisational experience, coordinating teams or contributors	E

Skills and abilities
A commitment to abide by the Contributor Code of Conduct .	E
Excellent leadership, communication and influencing skills	E
Ability to work collaboratively with clinicians, educators and professional stakeholders	E
Commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion in education	E
Strategic thinking and an ability to balance innovation with quality assurance	D

04 Commitment and conditions

Contributors at the RCR play an essential role in supporting the College's strategic initiatives and shaping the direction of the College. Although our Contributor positions are undertaken on a voluntary basis, each role has optimal impact when Contributors dedicate sufficient time to fulfilling the responsibilities entrusted to them.

Most work can be carried out remotely, alongside attendance at relevant meetings and occasional in-person events. Contributors are expected to adhere to RCR policies relating to conduct, confidentiality, intellectual property, and data protection.

05 Support and benefits of the role

Support provided to the role

The RCR will offer you strong support, ensuring that you are informed, feel valued, and are equipped to fulfil your role.

This includes:

- comprehensive administrative support tailored to your role, facilitated by a key RCR staff contact,
- collaboration with other Portfolio Leads and the wider RCR Learning team,
- regular engagement opportunities with RCR staff and fellow Contributors,
- RCR's Contributor Officer, providing high-level support for all Contributors,
- the Contributor Code of Conduct and Contributor Handbook, which provide reassurance around our expectations of conduct and personal integrity,
- the opportunity to attend induction sessions, providing you with all relevant information to fulfil your role effectively.

Benefits of the role

Contribute to flagship RCR events, including conferences and admission ceremonies

Influence the RCR's strategic direction

Letters of acknowledgement

Invitation to exclusive RCR recognition events

Networking with a diverse community of Fellows and experts

Opportunities to participate in global initiatives

Feature opportunities in Wave magazine

Shape the future workforce in both quality and quantity

06 Application process

How to apply

To apply, please submit:

- A short statement outlining your experience and interest (max. 150 words)
- A brief CV
- Applications can be submitted via the RCR online Contributor application form. If you have questions, please contact: rcrllearning@rcr.ac.uk

Our commitment to Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion

We are committed to actively fostering an inclusive culture at the RCR. We uphold a commitment to building a Contributor group that reflects the diversity of our global community, and therefore we actively welcome applications from individuals from under-represented groups and diverse backgrounds. We are also dedicated to making reasonable adjustments, for example, offering documents in alternative formats to accommodate neurodiversity. If you would like to discuss this further, please contact the Contributor Officer: contributors@rcr.ac.uk

Important information for Contributors

- We encourage you to explore the Contributor Code of Conduct and Contributor Handbook.
- We request that all applicants complete our EDI Monitoring Form. The information you provide anonymously will help us to understand how our Contributor group represents a diverse range of experience, views and backgrounds. Please complete the form by clicking this link: EDI Monitoring Form for Applicants to Contributor Roles
- All data will be handled in accordance with our data protection policy and membership privacy notice.
- Please note that you may be required to complete a 'Declaration of conflict of interest' form.
- For more general queries about the role of an RCR Contributor, please email contributors@rcr.ac.uk

“It’s a great network of colleagues and individuals who share similar interests in education and training.”

“One of the best things I do! Great group of colleagues.”

“An opportunity to work with some inspirational individuals & learn a lot about our specialty.”

“I found it interesting, personally developmental and hugely collaborative.”

The Royal College of Radiologists
63 Lincoln's Inn Fields
London, WC2A 3JW, UK

The Royal College of Radiologists
is a Charity registered with the Charity Commission No 211540.

© The Royal College of
Radiologists, October 2025.

